

People of this ilk can be a motivating force of continual knowledge gathering. The inward probing explores some of the infiniteness that is within the limits of our being.

The great thinkers and doers in life have advanced the evolution of humankind's collective conscience ever onwards. People like Plato, Socrates, Aristotle, Newton, Einstein, Edison and Darwin. The lifeworks of these great minds serve as a guiding force of awareness towards avenues of individual enlightenment.

All Encompassing Nature

All people are enveloped by Nature. Her presence is often unperceived and not given notice. This does not mean that certain things are not real. Nature is abstract and simple. What is, is as it is. Thus is the reality of everyday empirical truth. Measures must be measurable. The intuitive concepts are certain keys . . .

The ways people behave is rooted from the conditioning of their experienced environments and the nature of character possessed of their mind. Thus, life and breath and the roles play on amongst humanity.

*The morning time out in nature is a great time for reflection.
The afternoon is a wonderful time for relaxation. The nighttime is the time for intense inspiration. Nature delivers it all!*

A brief word from the Author:

“The themes I brush broad strokes upon, are interwoven with threads of poetry and prose . . . penetrating places of human nature and conduct, through man’s capacity for consciousness elevation. This all leads to the main overriding message — Know thyself and profit from the knowledge there of!”

“Of all knowledge, the wise and good seek most to know themselves.”
- Shakespeare

The Philosophy and Physics of life is all relative to a First Cause. What is this First Cause? Where is this First Cause? Who is this First Cause? Nature holds the keys in bountiful measures, hidden in the womb of secrets in Her ongoing existence and Being. The many varied laws of Nature, those known and unknown, are the very fabric of this First Cause. Relativity is the General Law of Nature from which all other Laws should spring forth. All of these Laws have existed since the beginning of creation. Truth is truth and has been truth throughout all ages of humanity. The sharpened mental receptors emitting reason, rationale and practicality, are the tools that electromagnetically draw wisdom and truth, through the Laws of Nature, to the thoughtful imaginative pondering mind. To be an instrument of truth, wisdom and understanding, one must prepare one’s mind. The genius within is the seed upon which destiny rides.

The Tuning Fork

Life is not a destination, but a journey. Where you are is not as important as where you are going. Each day is a learning experience unto itself. Environmental tendencies promote the processes of circumstance. Within the confines of time and space, we evolve. Choice and consequence; cause and effect.
